An early Thursday morning inferno burned two men to death as they lay sleeping, routed two others, who jumped from second story windows and saved their lives and brought $45,000 in damage to a 50-year-old Santa Fe Street building.

Thirty-two firemen from two cities battled the stubborn blaze for 45 minutes before bringing it under control.

The pre-dawn holocaust apparently started with a cigarette dropped into a sofa, which smoldered, before turning the small frame apartment into a rage of fire.

With three engines arriving from mutual aid in Anaheim, including a hook and ladder truck, the flames were attacked from both sides of the building with Placentia firemen fighting from the street in front of the structure.

The stairway leading to the small upstairs apartment was a mass of flames and falling debris, blocking both the escape of the men upstairs and ingress of firemen seeking to battle the inferno.

Placentia firemen were called to the scene at about 4:30 a.m. when the men who had successfully jumped from the second story windows as the flames closed in around them, ran, in spite of their injuries, the three blocks to Fire Station 1.

Scarpas File Second Law Suit

A second law suit on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scarpas, their Herbert Hawkins real estate agency and their many months of effort to locate in a free standing building in Placentia's Town Center, is in process, Fullerton attorney Robert Von Esch indicated this week.

The second court action follows the recent decision by Placentia's City Council in a 3-2 vote, to bar the firm from a place in the center, previously awarded them by the Placentia Planning Commission members. The center is located on Yorba Linda Boulevard between Kraemer Boulevard and Bradford Avenue.

The courts, through Superior Court Judge Walter W. Charamza had previously advised the city council either to grant the use permit to the real estate firm or to hold a second hearing. The council decided on the latter course.

The first city council action now moves into the Appellate court, where the Scarpas will seek to have the decision overturned and the second suit concerns the council's most recent action to bar the firm.

Attorney Von Esch said the new action will ask the courts to grant the Scarpas the use permit for the building.

"I consider this action just as arbitrary and capricious as the first," Von Esch explained. Having heard a tape of the council meeting, the attorney stated "it's so confusing to me. It is bewildering."

After the first city council action to deny the use to the Scarpas, a writ of mandamus was handed down by Judge Charamza stating that insufficient reasons had been given for denying the Scarpas use of the building.

That hearing revolved around complaints that a real estate office did not generate sales tax and that there were already too many real estate offices in the general area.

At that time it was pointed out that several businesses already established in the Town Center are not of a sales tax producing nature.

Library District May Void Election

The Placentia Library Board of Directors may be able to void their upcoming March 4 election, indications are at this time.

A deadline for candidates to file for the election is 5 p.m., Tuesday, December 31, with only incumbents indicating their intentions of running, the Orange County Registrar of Voters reports.

Filing for reelection are Victor Michel, Jr., President; Kathryn McKnight, Secretary and Virginia Farmer, immediate past president.

Fred Aguirre and Irene Czaplinski are hold over members of the board.

Mrs. Farmer explained that if no one else files for seats on the board, there is a provision in the state code allowing trustees to cancel the election, to avoid the unnecessary expense. The savings would be around $6,000 she indicated.

The Board has taken similar action in the past when there were insufficient number of candidates to make an election sensible.

Ten Families Have No Christmas

At least ten families in Placentia's Atwood area, who are in serious need, received no food or other necessities for Christmas.

Each of the families has five or more children and in one family there are handicapped children, said Tina Gonzales, a staff member at the L. Jack Gomez Community Center in Atwood. Elderly people are also involved.

The names of the families may have been submitted too late to the Placentia Clearing Bureau for the annual Christmas effort, Mrs. Gonzales said.

Because of the mixup, the families apparently were not considered and received nothing, Mrs. Gonzales explained.

"In the case of one family, I'm sure there is no food in the house," Mrs. Gonzales stated, "and the others really need the Christmas food."

The families received no gifts of any kind, she reported.

Assistance from any organizations or individuals who could supply a late Christmas for the families would be most appreciated, Mrs. Gonzales indicated, as some families in the area must depend heavily on the Christmas basket for food, and the gifts provided may be the only ones they receive.

Mrs. Gonzales can be reached at 993-9092, the L. Jack Gomez Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and at other hours at 993-5806.

Toys and gifts of any kind would be appreciated, Mrs. Gonzales stated.

WHILE STROLLING THROUGH THE PARK, two days after Christmas with a brand new baby buggy and two lovely new children, pretty Donna Reyes, 2, just happened to catch the eye of handsome Mario Malo, 3. The two youngsters are cousins and live in Atwood where the recently completed L. Jack Gomez Community Center can be seen behind them. Work is almost completed on the 3-acre park surrounding the center which has approximately been named Parque de los Ninos [Park of the Children]. Two days after Christmas, the name seemed remarkably appropriate. [Staff Photo by Bill Mason]

Student In School Board Race March 4

Kenneth E. Neidiger, of 815 Azalea Avenue, Placentia, an industrial arts student at the University of Long Beach, who expects eventually to teach school, has filed as a candidate for a seat on the Placentia Unified School District Board of Trustees.

Neidiger, became the fourth person to file, following declarations of the three incumbents that they will be making the race.

A fourth prospective candidate, James R. Jamieson of Anaheim, active in the deannexation efforts against PUSD's Rio Vista Elementary School has taken out papers but has not filed. Deadline for the declarations is 5 p.m. Friday, January 3. Jamieson said that he will be filing this week.

Neidiger, who attended elementary school in the old Bradford School, now part of the Valencia High School campus, said he is not as familiar with Placentia district schools as he is with Long Beach and Norwalk, but when he read in the paper that there was a possibility that only incumbents would file, he

Airport Handed Strong Setback

Beset from all sides, the Chino Hills Airport Complex, Inc. has been checked twice by the Orange County Grand Jury, founder Reg Wood said this week as word has circulated from Washington, D.C. that the Federal Aviation Administration will not be granting funding to the group's latest entity, the Inter County Airport Authority.

Wood also indicated that the 180 property owners in the general Chino Hills area may be contemplating over 2,000 acres of residential development "if it is not considered as a site for an airport."

"In 60 days, we'll make a public announcement," Wood reported.

"People are waiting for residential communities to develop," Wood explained, but said he still feels the area is best suited for an airport "and its related uses."

Countering a report from the office of Congressman Charles Wiggins that the FAA intends to notify Stanton and Chino, the two cities of the Inter-County Airport Authority that the authority sponsored by the two cities does not meet eligibility requirements for federal funds and that the federal government will not participate in a site selection study planned by the authority, Wood found the report hard to believe.

"We haven't asked for funds yet," he stressed. "And we're not going to make an application until we're sure of what we're doing."

Wood, who founded the Chino Hills Airport Complex, Inc., in 1970 to develop an international jet airport in the rugged hills area, indicated this week that his group may have made a few mistakes in the process of their enterprise.

New Post Office Open Soon

Service to the public from Placentia's opulent new 14,500 square foot Post Office, will begin on Monday, January 13. Al Lopas, Placentia Postmaster reported this week.

The facility will move from its present site on Bradford Avenue into the new half-million-dollar structure on Kraemer Boulevard, between Morse Avenue and Yorba Linda Boulevard. Moving day will be Saturday, January 11.

The new spacious, facility will be a vast change from the present structure, which was built 19 years ago and contains only 3,400 square feet. When the present building was constructed in 1955, the city had 3,000 population, one rural mail route and two city routes, Lopas recalled.

Furnishings for the new facility are currently in storage in Anaheim and will be moved in as soon as all inspections are complete, Lopas said.

Hours for the new postoffice will be from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mondays through Fridays. The new structure is expected to give patrons better, faster service because of the space available permitting more orderly working conditions.

The present Bradford Avenue postoffice has been so inadequate that the Bradford Packing House has served as an annex for the Christmas rush for the past few years. In the present facility there is only one office for all personnel.

After the post office completes its move, the abandoned facility owned for several months by the Placentia American Legion, will be converted into a headquarters for that group.

Woody Murphy, a member of the Legion, said that plans are not firm yet as to when the organization will begin its remodeling program but it is expected that it will start as soon as plans can be drawn up and permits can be obtained.

The Legion has been using the Scout House in Kraemer Park along with Senior Citizens since the landmark Legion Hall was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Backs and donated to the city for additional space in Kraemer Park. To accommodate this the Hall was torn down at the present site where Mr. and Mrs. Backs are now building an ornate Veterans Memorial Fountain.

Postmaster Lopas said there are no plans for a formal dedication of the new facility but it is expected that an open house will be held after services and personnel are well established in the new structure.

Historical Monument Planned

Old Yorba Graveyard Receives County Funding

BY JULIA CAREY

The ruins of the old Yorba cemetery, just outside Yorba Linda city limits on Esperanza Road, will be restored to some of their original dignity, then instated as a historical monument by mid-summer, according to Ray Rhoads, assistant to third district supervisor Ralph Diedrich.

The old graveyard, shaded by a few pepper trees and strewn with masonry debris and stray plastic flowers, lies approximately a quarter mile from the site of the Yorba Hacienda.

County funds have been earmarked for refurbishing the ancient graveyard, and constructing an adjacent neighborhood park near the Woodgate subdivision.

Residents in the area, meeting Saturday to hammer out plans for the park, decided to include a tennis court, a half basketball court, handball court, picnic area and multipurpose playing field on the two and a half acre site. Residents also voted in an assessment district for maintenance of the little park.

According to Rhoads, the plans are awaiting a final approval from the board of supervisors. He estimated the construction on the project will begin in approximately two months.

Funds for park construction will come out of the harbors, beaches and parks fund; additional funds for the graveyard/monument will also come out of the harbors, beaches and parks fund, but the historical site will be maintained by the county.

Plans for the cemetery include general refurbishing, and landscaping. The chain link fence will be replaced with a decorative iron fence that will keep the vandals out, but allow visitors to see the graves.

"Many of the original pioneers are buried there," Rhoads noted--but determining who is buried where will not be an easy task.

The site was used as a family graveyard for the Yorba family before Bernardo Yorba donated the land to the archdiocese of Los Angeles in 1885, according to Albert Yorba, a descendant of the original family.

Yorba noted that over 450 graves "that we know of" are located in the two acre cemetery--most of them people from Yorba Linda, Anaheim, Orange and the surrounding county lands--as well as members of the Yorba family.

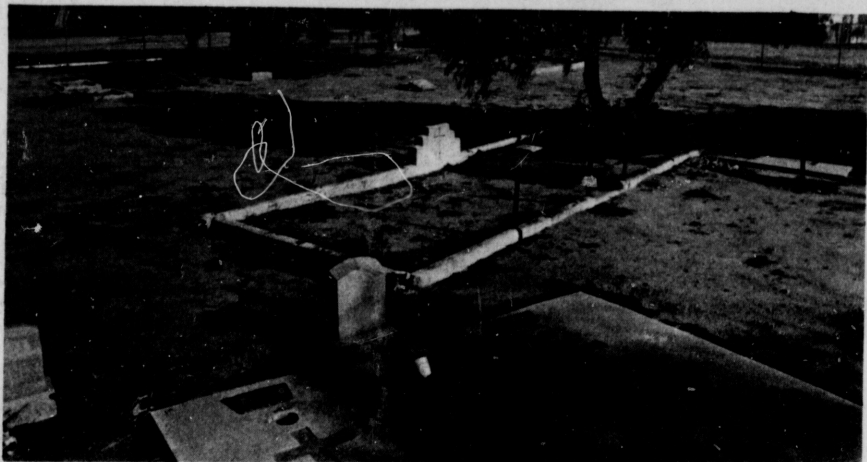

The task of restoring the ruins will not be an easy one. The graves have turned up in every part of the county," Rhoads reported.

An interest in historical accuracy in placing the markers makes that task even harder.

Presently the cemetery is surrounded with a chain link fence. Most of the graves are unmarked--a few are designated with makeshift crosses of wood, or even steel pipe. The site is dominated by the large stone marking the resting place of pioneer Bernardo Yorba.

Albert Yorba reports that Bernardo and many of his children were originally buried in Los Angeles, but had been moved to the local site in the 1920's.

According to Rhoads, the county is continuing a search for historical background on the site. "Some type of printed document will be available" on the site, Rhoads said.

LONELY PEPPER TREES--and the litter of scattered masonry mark graveyard--now due for county refurbishing.

El Dorado First In Takedown

BY BRIAN HILDERBRAND

El Dorado, hosting the fourth annual Takedown Tournament, took first place in the day long event, which involved 25 high schools from surrounding cities.

There were 421 wrestlers completing and approximately 1000 matches were held, December 28, at El Dorado's gym.

The nine hour tournament was highlighted with the crowning of the Takedown Queen, Linda Thomas. The attendants were Sherrie Ledbetter, Shelly Snook, Pam Dosch and Georgie Ferrin. Last year's queen, Renee Anello, crowned Miss Thomas.

The final hour of the tournament, the finals were held. ED had four wrestlers from four weight groups entered, these four boys had the highest point total in their weight categories. They were: Randy Fishel (103), Keith Iwanaga (120), Caig Nelson (133), and Greg Johnson (175). Fishel is the only wrestler to hold three gold medals in four years of wrestling.

El Dorado finished with 43 team points, taking first place. Buena Park took second with 35 points. Millikan came in third with 33 points. Defending champs, Pacifica, finished fifth with 27 points.

Some of the local winners in the tournament were:

(103) Randy Fishel (ED), first. Larry Flores (Val.), third. (112) Mike Saucedo (ESP.), second. (120) Keith Iwanaga (ED), first. Mike Nava (Val.), third. (133) Craig Nelson (ED), second. Scott Hartley (Val.), third. (175) Greg Johnson (ED), first. (191) Robert Bass (ESP.), first.

Two Nationals Burn To Death

Speaking only Spanish, their obvious concern led firemen to follow them not knowing what they would find on arrival at the scene.

The dead have been identified as Isabel Saragosa, 23, and Miguel Bojoroues, 36, also known as Guillermo Alvarez. Both are from Panjamo, in the central part of Mexico and had been living in the upstairs accommodations for about two weeks.

The men who narrowly escaped are Melquiades Buenrostro Franco and Francisco Lopez, 18, whose quick action saved their lives.

The Santa Fe Street structures, along with other older sections of the city, have been a constant source of concern to firemen here, but have been miraculously free of fires.

Fire Chief James Sims said as far as he knows, the burned structure met all code requirements with two exits, unblocked by furniture or other objects. The fire apparently was not caused by any violation but rather human error.

After the intense heat and flames of the fire were controlled, fireman found the bodies of the two men, one in the center of the room, which had burned to a shell and the other under the remaining springs of a bed. One fireman, Tim Kochen, was injured by flying glass.

The two men who escaped by jumping from the second story window were injured also. Franco was treated on the scene for an abrasion on his leg and Lopez was sent to Orange County Medical Center for observation. He suffered from shock and smoke inhalation and was released later the same day, Chief Sims reported.

The structure is totally gutted. Whether the building is rebuilt "depends on the city", the owner

ALEX SEGOVIA, Placentia resident and an employee of Orange County Harbors, Beaches and Parks Department, has been surveying the old Yorba Cemetery, Yorba Linda, and seeking information on its authentic history. Plans now are to refurbish the site and bring it as nearly as possible to its original condition.

Chino Hills Airport

He said that problems had arisen from the fact that his group was not governmental but a private entity and "that we didn't know what we were doing."

He added that his group had been advised in their first application to FAA (with a stack of documents 6 feet high) that changes would have to be made and "that the runways (for a Chino Hills Airport) would have to go on a different line."

He further envisions the airport positioned so that it almost abuts Prado Dam, which could be rebuilt and restructured when the airport is built, he explains "taking 40 feet of silt out of the Prado Dam basin and scattering it in the Chino Hills by conveyor belt."

"We could make a lake back there almost as big as Lake Arrowhead," he envisions, suitable for recreational use.

Legal Action

Arguments at the most recent city council decision involved legal ground rules, that the use must be proved detrimental to the health and general welfare of the city and whether Town Center zoning can be different in one section of the zone than in another.

Scott Alan Smith, Placentia's new Assistant City Attorney, said that his office has had no notice of the second legal action on behalf of the Scarpas.

reportedly has told friends.

A recent rash of fires in Placentia have been centered in the southern sections of the city with a chemical fire burning out the Stocker Chemical and Dye Company, near Orangethorpe Avenue and Melrose Street; a second fire involving a large gunite tanker truck and a building off of La Jolla Road and the Santa Fe Street fire. The latter was the only one with loss of life.

Concerning reports of an earthquake fault running under the dam, Wood stated that the dam "could be built to hazards, with pre-stress construction," so that it wouldn't be affected.

Congressman Wiggins' announcement is just one ill to befall the determination of the Chino Hills Airport Complex to built an airport which the majority of citizens in the area have found cause to vehemently protest.

Assemblyman John Briggs (R-Fullerton) has reintroduced a bill into the California State Legislature making it mandatory to revert a decision on an airport in the Chino Hills area to be a vote of the people.

Orange County Third District Ralph Diedrich has come out strongly against the development and a majority of north Orange County local governments and citizens groups have actively attacked the plan.

Congressman Wiggins in his statement continued: "The FAA will not and can not assist the Chino Hills airport group because the need for a major new airport in this area has not been identified in the National Airport System Plan. Further, "Wiggins said," the study does not have the support of the Southern California Association of Governments. Such support is needed before the federal government will provide any funding.

"The federal government will not be a party to telling local governments or citizens where they must place airports. The proposed Chino Hills facility does not enjoy the support of most local governmental bodies and therefore, the FAA is quite correct in turning down a request for funding," Wiggins added.

Wood said that he believed an airport in this area "would create jobs. And I think that is important." "I believe if the people of Brea, Yorba Linda and Placentia got a true picture of the airport, they'd be in favor of it," Wood concluded.

Bids Received On Chapman

Bids were opened December 16, 1974, for the construction of Chapman Avenue east of the new Civic Center. Altfillisch Construction Company of Norco was the low bidder at $532,674. Bids received were as high as $720,000.

The work involved is the construction of a one-mile stretch of new road from the new Civic Center, Kraemer Boulevard east to Orangethorpe Avenue. This road will be a "pilot road" with one lane in each direction separated by a curbed median.

Impending tract developments in the area will complete the road with two lanes in each direction.

A realignment of Chapman Avenue between Angelina Drive and Kraemer Blvd. will also take place, along with installation of fully-actuated traffic signals at the intersection of Chapman Avenue with both Kraemer Blvd. and Orangethorpe Avenue.

Extensive construction of storm drain channels will also be necessary to accommodate the new roadway, Ben Minamide, City Engineer, reports.

Altfillisch Construction was one of fourteen bidders on this project which is scheduled to begin early in February, 1975. It is anticipated that City Council will award the contract to Altfillisch sometime in January.

PIONEER--Bernardo Yorba's sizable headstone dominates old cemetery. Yorba descended from Don Jose Yorba who came to California with Portola in 1760. felt that somebody should make the race.

He is 24, married and the couple has no children.

Neidiger said that he is unfamiliar with the $20 million school bond issue that will be on the ballot and has not taken a position on the bonds. He said, however, that he "knew a little" about the Rio Vista school deannexation but is taking no position on that matter at this time.

Neidiger formerly lived in Anaheim and is a graduate of Anaheim High School.

Incumbents filing in the race include Board President Jean Pappas; Vice President Dr. William Yates and Clerk Salvador Zavala. The selection, including the $20 million in bonds, will be on March 4 ballot.

Council Adds Restaurant To Tri-City Park Plan

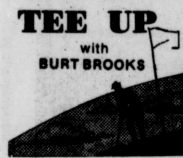

Placentia City Council action last week added recommendation of a dinner restaurant to the list of desired facilities for the 40-acre Lake Placentia, Tri-City Park area in the northwest corner of the city.

Recommendations from three cities will be considered at the next meeting of the Tri-City Park Authority on Wednesday, January 8 in the city of Brea.

The park is owned by the cities of Placentia, Brea and Fullerton and has also received funding from Orange County Supervisors.

The lake, formerly a water reservoir, is totally undeveloped and has been supported by most actions of the three-city authority as a prospective natural state facility.

Some development, however, is expected to be allowed for use of water-oriented activities such as limited boating and fishing.

M.L. "Doc" Bowden has been installed as president of Yorba Linda Country Club to serve during 1975. John Morgan turned over his duties to Doc Bowden at the last Men's Club meeting of 1974 which was held two weeks ago.

Don Lloyd is the new vice-president; Bill Herzog, secretary and Waverly Watkins is the new treasurer.

Three new members were elected to the board of directors. They are Jim Black, Ed Varvello and Phil Renick.

Birch Hills golf course is the newest addition to the golfing facilities in our area. It is located directly across the street from Imperial Golf Course in Brea, and is another Dee Johnson enterprise; as Birch Hills joins Alpha Vista and Imperial.

The new course was designed by Billy Casper and Harry Rainville who also built Yorba Linda Country Club in addition to the three above named courses. Rainville, is also a longtime Yorba Linda resident as is Dee Johnson.

Jack Bird is the new PGA pro at Birch Hills, having moved from the Imperial course.

This new executive course has 13 three par holes and five four par holes and is an exciting test of one's ability to master irons.

Best of all, I have found a course where I can shoot my age, as the 30-29-59 par allows a few holes for me to go over par and still shoot my age, which I was able to do last week when I tried out this most interesting course.

Picnicking, camping and general daytime uses also are anticipated.

The authority also has discussed the need for a restaurant, to support some of the large, prospective maintenance costs of the development, which are expected to require a considerable budget.

Placentia Parks and Recreation Commission recommendations for the 40-acre site include the following: Boating should be the main activity with no motorized boating allowed and boats not to exceed 10 feet in length. It is recommended that a concession operator be considered for providing this service.

Fishing should be encouraged and the lake should be stocked as frequently as can be financially supported. A concession should be contemplated to support this element of the park. The concession unit could be the same as that required for boating.

Picnicking should be maintained in a natural state without formalized concrete slabs for picnic tables; however, the arrangements should be functional. There should be a special area for large group functions and a facility support area to complement the function, containing rest rooms, barbecues and a playground equipment area and possibly others.

The organizational camping area would permit both day and night camping but with permit only.

The Placentia Parks and Recreation Commissioners, however, opposed entrance or parking charges, camping fees, retail sale of boats or a restaurant operation and found fencing undesirable. Fencing would be considered only as a necessity against vandalism.

Food services should be considered only as part of the boating and fishing concessions and should not be developed separately. Commercialism should be kept to a minimum. The commissioners also opposed a dinner restaurant. Placentia representatives on the Tri-City Park Authority are Mayor Robert Lyons and Councilman George De Jesus.

Divorced parents' agreement on child's exemption

If you are divorced or separated from your spouse, you may be entitled to the dependency exemption for your child in 1974, even though the child was in the custody of your ex-spouse all year. If you contributed at least $600 toward the child's support and your ex-spouse agrees in writing to your taking the exemption (or the divorce or separate maintenance decree so provides), you may take the exemption on your 1974 return. But the combined support furnished by you and your ex-spouse must be over half of the child's support.

If you failed to qualify for this special exemption rule in 1974, now is the time to enter into a written agreement with your ex-spouse for the 1975 exemption.

You may still be entitled to the exemption, even if your ex-spouse refuses to give his or her consent, by showing that you contributed at least $1,200 toward the child's support. Your ex-spouse, of course, must be unable to prove provision of more support than you provided.

If you remarry and have custody of the children, support furnished by your new spouse may be considered as furnished by you by dependency exemption purposes.

Western State Moves Into New Facility Near Here

California's largest law school began its move into its new $2.5 million, award-winning facilities in Fullerton on December 27. Western State University College of Law of Orange County will occupy a four-story building on almost four acres of land at 1111 North State College Blvd. Its arrival there brings the fifth institution of higher learning into the geographic area of east

Fullerton. Designed by the architectural firm of George T. Nowak and Associates of Los Angeles, the structure's four stories provide 54,000 square feet in floor space. An award of excellence for the building's design and professional capability was presented to the Nowak firm by American Registered Architects. One of the outstanding architectural features of the new law building is a dramatic, recessed library. The library has stacks around its perimeter and a recessed area for seating about 225 students.

Also included in the facilities are 12 classrooms, ranging in size from small seminar rooms to a large lecture hall which seats 150 students. In addition, there is a bookstore, office areas for student activities; faculty and staff offices; faculty, staff and student lounges; reception and service areas.

At Western State, the planning and supervision of the new facilities was handled by a team chaired by Executive Director Burton Reis. Among other members were Kenneth R. Klokorn, vice-president, administration; Ardiste Reis, controller; Dale Hawkins, executive assistant and Douglas Hamilton, consultant.

The law school's new facilities mark still another major milestone in the nine-year history of the law school. The California Committee of Bar Examiners (CBE) has just announced that it has granted full accreditation to WSU Orange County, effective upon occupying the new quarters.

Within the nine years since its founding, WSU

Orange County has become California's largest law school, with 1,885 students enrolled for the 1974 fall semester. When this enrollment is combined with that of its coordinate campus in San Diego, it is the largest law school in the U.S.

The law school offers students a greater range of graduation options and class scheduling than any other law school

WHAT'S IN STORE

GETTING TO KNOW YOU

Through this column I have had the opportunity to become acquainted with hundreds of consumers. You'd be amazed how many different types of concerns today's shoppers have. New homemakers eager to put together nutritious meals, retired couples struggling to make their few dollars stretch to cover their basic food needs, shoppers puzzled with nutrition labeling, teachers interested in helpful information for their students, young bachelors wanting to know how to use unusual products, and many more have called or written for help.

There are others who have assisted me in my work. They've brought suggestions, mailed recipes, taught me how to use new items, and shared some of the problems that we can try to resolve together.

All these folks make my task very meaningful. As we start this new year, I'd like to use this opportunity to thank you special people for taking time to write or call, and also for inviting our consumer affairs department to talk to your groups. Working together, we hope all consumers can be better served. Let us hear from you.

Cigarette Tax Adds To Funds

Orange County Senator James E. Whetmore today announced that Orange County received $20,458.98 as the December apportionment of cigarette tax.

Among Orange County cities who shared in the distribution were Placentia with $3,993.83 and Yorba

Linda with $2,211.40.

"This distribution represents 30 per cent of the revenue deposited in the Cigarette Tax Fund during the month of November, 1974, less the State's administrative costs of $24,896," Whetmore explained.

Citizen Fears Hazards

City Council Gentlemen:

I do not know exactly where the responsibility lies, therefore, I am sending this letter to the City Council, Yorba Linda, and Placentia.

We are constantly being reminded to drive safely and carefully, via radio, television, magazines, etc. I believe cities have a definite responsibility in the maintenance of the streets/roads to insure the motorist of the best driving conditions.

A driving hazard has been created on Rose Drive due to road repairs and the center lines not repainted. This condition has existed for many weeks.

The area I am writing about is on Rose Drive north toward Valencia and so happens to be on two curves. I drive south on Rose from Whittier and at one particular curve the center lines are completely obliterated, and this makes night driving very difficult.

Night driving on poorly lighted streets, curves without adequately marked center lines, cars approaching with bright lights, which are usually dimmed, could be very disastrous.

If ever there is a need for well-marked roads/streets it is in the winter months when night driving is more extensive, the fog rolls in early and the rains make night driving very difficult.

Amber center markers on Birch, Rose, and heavily traveled but poorly lighted rural roads would please all tax payers.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. D.W. Field

Week Of Concern Set

The Placentia City Council has declared the month of January, 1975 as March of Dimes Month and the week of January 5 to 11 as the "Week of Concern."

The special designations concern the drive by the Orange County chapter of the National Foundation of March of Dimes, to eradicate and prevent birth defects through "research, education and community service."

Edwin T. Powell, Placentia City Administrator, and local chairman for the drive explained, "Through this special observance, the religious community of Orange County is invited to join in an educational program aimed at the prevention of birth defects and to bring to the attention of the community the advances which have been made towards the treatment of children born with a handicap - so that all children, with God's blessing, may be assured of a more perfect birthright and an opportunity to reach their full potential."

Josh White, a Placentia citizen, is the Orange County Chairman of the Week of Concern Planning Committee.

The price tag now is $310,800 to keep each employee at work for you

That is the gross plant investment needed — $310,800 or more than a quarter of a million dollars — to put each of our skilled men and women to work at providing you dependable, 24-hour-a-day water service.

The total investment for all of our employees is nearly $100 million. This pays for thousands of miles of underground water mains, electric and gas pumps, huge reservoirs, computers and hundreds of other items.

Add to these costs the increased charges for purchased water, power and natural gas, wages, supplies, taxes and interest. These all add up to the expense of bringing water service to you.

Doing the job better, quicker and at least cost is the goal of our skilled men and women in fighting inflation and energy costs. So our 24-hour-a-day job is unchanging. Keep on working to bring you the best water service at the lowest possible costs.

The State sets the minimum resale price for milk. Effective January 1, the price for a half gallon of homogenized, pasteurized milk has been reduced from 71c to 70c. Similar savings are in effect on low-fat and non-fat. Trader Joe, of course, is passing the saving on to you (many retailers are not).

We also have the lowest prices in town on AltaDena certified raw milk—79c per half gallon. Trader Joe.

Tree Pickups Planned

City of Placentia crews will be picking up "cut" Christmas trees between January 6th and 10th.

These trees will be ground up into mulch to be used in Placentia parks. Placentia residents who desire this service should call the Placentia Recreation and Maintenance Services Department at 993-8232 and give their name and the address where the tree can be picked up. The resident must then place the tree in the Parkway area in front of their home on the day designated for the pick up.

Placentia residents who have "Live" Christmas trees they would like to donate for planting in a city park can also call 993-8232 and leave their name, address, and phone number. The tree will then be picked up at a convenient time for the resident. For more information on either service, please call 993-8232.

People, Places and Things

BY JUDY BRANSTAD

LETTER FROM TOKYO

Placentia's Police Chief, Norm Traub, recently received a letter from his friend in Tokyo, Mr. Tomio Toda. Mr. Toda was Chief Traub's roommate during the F.B.I. classes in Quantico, Virginia this fall.

Recalling his class at the National Academy, Chief Traub decided that he had probably been east at the best time of the year, autumn, when the weather was brisk and the landscape was colorful. There are three classes a year at the Academy with 250 students from all over the world in each class. Chief Traub met people from many countries including Lebanon, Canada, Belgium, Malaysia, and the Virgin Islands.

Chief Traub and two classmates bought a 1964 Cadillac convertible for $125.00 and used it to see many of the historical places of interest throughout the eastern states. They later sold the car and made a profit of $4 each.

Chief Traub attended classes in Criminal Law, Urban Problems, Forensic Science, and Management, among other subjects. Aside from textbook instruction, however, Chief Traub felt he had gained equally from his contact with such an international blend of experience in law enforcement.

Chief Traub's roommate, Tomio Toda, is currently a Sergeant in the Metropolitan Police in Tokyo, a force of 42,000. Mr. Toda has a Bachelors Degree in Literature, but when he saw a film on narcotics, he decided to enter the police force. He has been a policeman for nine years.

After the three month class was over, Tomio Toda and another classmate from Japan were guests of Chief and Mrs. Traub in Placentia. They went to Disneyland and toured Los Angeles. The Traub children and Mr. Toda enjoyed an instant friendship.

In his letter, Mr. Toda thanked the Traub family for their hospitality. He mentioned how much he enjoyed seeing his family again, especially his newly born daughter.

After spending a rather lonely Thanksgiving holiday in the Academy, Chief Traub was very happy to be with his family and in-laws for Christmas. Chief Traub also spoke of the fine job Lt. Corrigan had performed in his absence with the firm support of the men.

spend the evening with friends in Placentia.

FAMILY DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Brown and family were at Steve's parents for Christmas day in Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Brown of Long Beach served a turkey dinner for the family members including, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lane and daughter, Huntington Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Boyden and children, Paramount, and Steve's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Saunders of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Saunders own the Saunders Poultry market in the famous Farmers Market in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders are very proud of the fact that two of their great-grandchildren, Jennifer Brown and Shannon Lane, were both born on the same date as their wedding anniversary, September 23.

HOLIDAY VISITORS

Mayor Robert Lyons and his family celebrated Christmas here in Placentia by attending church and having a family dinner. Mrs. Lyons' parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Johansen of Phoenix, Arizona, are visiting for the holidays. The Lyons family had been in Phoenix with the Johansens for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Making it a policy never to drive on New Year's Eve, Mayor Lyons planned to

United Way Contributions Continue

Employees of 19 Orange County cities can truly be called "People Helpers" after jointly putting $110,318 worth of support behind the United Way of Orange County campaign.

A combined total for the individually run employee campaigns, it reflects a 36.2% increase over what was raised by this group last year, United Way reports.

Employee contributions for last year in Yorba Linda were not tabulated and this year amount to $80; for Placentia, last year's total was $20 and this year's is $1,133.

George Ramle's. Attending were the Spackmans, Matthews, Kristensens, Padelfords, Hazars, Schmitzs, Tices and Morses.

The Ruppert family had a grand Christmas celebration--all kinds of family visiting from afar. It was an exciting time for all.

The Flipped Gourd, owned by Nanine Schmitz of Placentia, recently moved to its new location in "Shop City" on State College Boulevard in Fullerton.

OC 'Good Citizen' Candidates Sought

The Orange County Chapter Sons of the American Revolution is in the process of selecting candidates for its annual award ceremony for an outstanding Good Citizen or Orange County for his contribution to all of us, and for an outstanding Police Officer who has demonstrated in an outstanding way a unique contribution to enforcement of our laws.

The Yorba Linda Juniors celebrated Christmas with their annual Christmas Party revealing "Secret Pals" and having Santa Visit.

For those residents in the community who answered the recent survey conducted by Esperanza Intercommunity Hospital, a neat gift of an oral thermometer was their "thank you." What a nice way to be thanked!

Looking Back

January 9, 1925

With the opening of the Yorba Linda Grammar School Monday after the holidays, an increase in attendance is reported by Mrs. Mabel M. Paine, principal. The enrollment on Wednesday was 210, which is as many pupils as the school had at the biggest enrollment last year.

Coming in with a gush that blew off the casing head an spouted oil over the top of the derrick, Coyle No. 1 of the Union Oil Co., a redrilled well on the lease southwest of Yorba Linda, Monday drew the attention of oil men to that district again.

As a result of several weeks of work and planning by Mrs. Stanley S. Collins, head of the Child Welfare Department of the Yorba Linda P.T.A., the Yorba Linda Grammar school children who have to eat their lunch away from home are to have benefit of a hot noon lunch served at the school cafeteria.

January 4, 1935

Believing that reconstruction, like charity, should begin at home, members of the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce devoted the greater part of the noon luncheon session on Monday to the problem of how the body might function more successfully during the new year.

Residents of this locality who are in need of jobs will do well to visit the Yorba Linda barber shop and ask its proprietor, Mr. Herbert Worsham, for the employment blank being put out by American Democracy, an organization whose Orange County headquarters is in Santa Ana.

Facing the most stupendous task any legislative session has confronted in California history, the 1935 state legislature will convene at Sacramento on January 7th to tackle the Herculean problems piled up by four years of depression and social and economic chaos.

January 5, 1945

War bond sales at the Yorba Linda post office during the Sixth War Loan Drive, totaled $22,700 maturity value, it was announced this week by Mrs. Maud Olsen, postmaster.

Prospects were bright late this week that some stirring news about the opening of a bank in Yorba Linda could be announced at the meeting of the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce tonight. Some potent political figures were at work on the project but were not ready to report when the Star went to press.

ORDINANCE NO. 74-0-129

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PLACENTIA REVISING DRAINAGE ACREAGE FEES FOR AREA "F".

WHEREAS, the Public Service and Facilities Element of the Placentia General Plan designates specific drainage districts within the City; and

WHEREAS, Drainage Area "F" has been established as being all the southwest portion of the City lying southerly of Orangehorpe Avenue; and

WHEREAS, additional drainage facilities are required in Drainage Area "F";

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF PLACENTIA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: The City Council of the City of Placentia hereby finds that subdivision and development of property within the planned local drainage area "F" will require construction of facilities described in Engineer's Report No. 74-134 dated November 19, 1974, and that the fees are fairly apportioned within the local drainage area either on the basis of benefits conferred on property proposed for subdivision or on the need for local drainage facilities created by the proposed subdivision and development of other property within the local drainage area.

SECTION 2: The aforesaid Engineer's Report sets forth a master drainage plan for Area "F" which plan indicates needed storm drains on Exhibit "D" attached thereto.

SECTION 3: Based upon actual or estimated costs, and prorating the costs of development of said drainage facilities, the City Council hereby finds that the drainage acreage fee for the entire Area "F" should be revised to $11.00 per acre and the City Council does hereby adopt said per acre drainage fee.

SECTION 4: All fees required by this Ordinance shall be paid into a separate drainage acreage fee fund.

SECTION 5: The City Administrator shall cause the drainage acreage fees established by this Ordinance to be reviewed annually, and make a recommendation to the City Council whether or not a revised fee should be adopted in any drainage area.

Storm Drains Funds Are Transferred

The sum of $28,500 has been transferred as a loan from the Placentia Area "A" Storm Drain Fund to the Area "F" Storm Drain Fund to facilitate construction of a storm drain at the intersection of Placentia Avenue and La Jolla Road. The transferral is on the basis of a loan, the Placentia City Council action delineated. The loan is to be repaid from sewer acreage fees to be collected from developers within the Storm Drain Area "F", it was explained.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Placentia Unified School District Board of Trustees was called last week to approve the ballot argument for the $20 million school bond election, scheduled for March 4. A resolution of compliance to the Election Code was adopted.

by Jack Scarpa

A POW comes home from a tiny, cramped cell in Vietnam where he faced unspeakable deprivations, and then ran in a race for a Congressional seat against Jerry Patterson. Dave Rehmann, the POW, lost the race.

Now the Grand Jury has indicted eight of Patterson's campaign workers for allegedly falsifying their addresses in order to vote for Patterson. What kind of people could possibly do such dirty and cheap little tricks to a man who had sacrificed so much for them and every American? I am sure eight votes would not have changed the result of the election, but it seems reasonable to wonder if this isn't just the tip of the iceberg.

The thing that really boggles the mind, though, is that three of these people are going to be Congressman Patterson's advisors in Washington. It should be noted that Patterson has not been implicated, but the scandal touches him as it does all of us. If the charges are proven correct, the very least that is owed to POW Rehman is a public apology.

Right or Wrong

If you have a teenager in your house, then you know its true that they see everything as black or white. There is no gray matter. It's either right or it's wrong.

Our son is still in this stage of his life. The following is a conversation we had last week, regarding the City Council's refusal to allow us to open our real estate office in the Town Center.

"Dad, why don't you just move into your new building?"

"Son, that would be breaking the law. Besides, the city won't allow the Edison Company to turn on the electricity."

"Let's get a portable generator."

"Be reasonable, Dave, we will do it the right way, through the courts."

"Dad, you know the City Council is wrong, don't you?"

"That's right. I think they have made a bad mistake. But don't you see Dave, if we move in illegally, we'll be just as wrong as they are? O.K.?"

"Boy, I'd move in. So would Mom."

"Your mother would not!"

"Yes, she would. She said so!" he exclaimed gleefully.

"Two against one just doesn't seem fair," I answered sadly.

It requires a lot of patience to live with a teenager and a wife who sometimes thinks like a teenager.
